

Dreams

A kid called John ever dreamed with be an officer, he really wants to be a police man, but his mom told him it was a very dangerous work, that makes him feel so frustrated. He says: I need to go to the policeman academy! His mom says you must watch out for another works, I really want you be happy, and I think that's the wrong way, did you forget the news, the policeman who breaks his back. Yeah mom, but I really want to be a police officer, for look after the weak.