PERFORMANCE 1

Hello, my name is Emilia, I live alone in the city, it was my dream since I was little, but apparently not everything is as beautiful as I imagined it, my mom and dad make me feel bad, because they think I have a lot of freedom, and Although if so, I don't enjoy it, because in the mornings I study, in the afternoon I work, I waste a lot of time making my food and when I finally return home and have free time, I am very tired, I don´t have time to hang out with my friends.

The house I live in, is very small, my neighbors don't let me play music even with low volume, whenever I make a noise they make me feel bad, that's why I hate this house, the only neighbor that I like is thinking of moving, and so do I, but I don't have enough money to do it, if only I did, that would be cool.

My life seems miserable since I moved, sometimes I think that it is normal to feel bad every day and hate the neighbors for the problems, but every day I fight to get ahead and make my life something cool.

I am thinking of looking for another job in which they pay me more, lately I have been looking for new houses and my friends have recommended some, I hope that in a few months I will be able to move house and be well with my parents, that they support me in my decisions and see how difficult change is for me.
