

Pedro and his new house

Pedro was a homeless man who had no food or money, he slept on the street, he was a hard-working man, but he dreamed of having his own house, he worked days, afternoons and nights to get more money, but one day he had an accident that the money he had saved he spent on his medicines, he suffered and did not want to work anymore, years passed and he met a friend named Alex which motivated Pedro to continue working, Pedro did and two years later Pedro was able to buy a big house , which used to have a kitchen, dining room, living room, bedroom, bathroom, garden and a garage, Pedro was so grateful to that person who motivated him, he lived happily and peacefully.
