ENGLISH.

Sixth script.

CUARTO BACHILLERATO “A”.
SECOND UNIT, LESSON 28.
ANGELA NATARENO.

Sixth script.

In the following script I'm doing my homework and someone is texting me.

First part.

I just got back from back to the school. And I am so tired. I would like to sleep.

But, I can't sleep, I have to do my homework. I have a lot of homework to do and I can't forget it.

Second part.

Ride a car, watch out, what's wrong officer,
step out of the car, I want to see him.

What was that?

Do you want a party for your birthday?

Really, I don't want a party for my birthday.

No, I don't want a party, it's gonna be a boring party.

What wrong with this people? No, I don't think it would be a great party. Why you don't understand?

I better keep studying.

What was that? Who's she?
